PATRIOTIC FORUM PLANNED MONDAY AT CENTERVILLE

CENTERVILLE—Dr. Joel Hildebrand, Dean of the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, will open a new Forum series at Washington High school next Monday evening, November 10, at 8 o'clock. Professor Hildebrand, a nationally known scholar, holder of the Distinguished Service Medal, and an inspiring speaker will discuss "How May We Best Defend Our Democracy."

With the whole nation debating policies of defense it is most timely for the local Forum to consider that subject on Armistice Eve.

Next Monday's Forum is being sponsored by the Centerville Lions Club, the Niles Rotary Club, and Washington Township American Legion Post. These organizations are planning to attend in a body, and each will have a representative on the platform to question the speaker during the discussion period.

Everyone is urged to attend this patriotic meeting and hear Dean Hildebrand speak on the most vital topic of our time. The general topic of the new Forum series which Dr. Hildebrand will inaugurate is "Democracy at the Crossroads."

On November 17, Dr. Carl Landauer, former Professor at the College of Commerce in Berlin, will speak on "I Saw Hitler Destroy Democracy." Dr. Max adin of U. C. Law school will speak at the November 24 meeting on the subject "Civil Liberties and the Preparation for War," and on December 1, Dr. T. K. Kreps of the Stanford School of Business, will discuss "How Can Our Democracy Solve Its Economic Problems." The December 8 speaker has not yet been selected.

The Public Forum is an American privilege. Let us exercise that privilege by attending these Monday evening meeting in the high school auditorium.

Howdy Folks; Over in Centerville a farmer is reported to have fed his cows bird seed so he could sell cheep milk.

They tell, also, that he has a helper so clumsy he is always getting in the whey.

We could even go farther and say that he has a duck that gets smaller and smaller. He grows down.

When a woman refers to her late husband it doesn't necessarily mean that she's a widow

When we say that you can save money buying our Heaters, we mean just that.

250 MEN IN SERVICE

Washington, Murray and Pleasanton Townships have sent a total of 154 young men who have been accepted into the United States armed forces since the draft began, according to figures released to this newspaper by Draft Board No. 75 in Niles. Seventeen more men left last Tuesday. If none is rejected they swell the total to 171 young men who have left here. Add to this a total of 39 volunteers who have been released to the navy, the marines and the coast guard after registering with the draft board here, making a total of 250 soldiers and sailors from Southern Alameda County now serving their Country.

NAVY DOES NOT DEMAND A HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

LEGION HEAD, HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL TELL OF OPPORTUNITIES FOR MEN

Since Secretary Knox announced the enlistment drive for Uncle Sam's new Two-Ocean Navy several weeks ago, many young men have asked of they were eligible to enlist without a high school education.

Commander Sam Scott of the Township American Legion Post answers this important question for the young men of this Township.

"Navy enlistees do not have to be high school graduates," said Commander Scott. "Any ambitious and patriotic young fellow who wants to serve his country has that opportunity now by joining the United States Navy or Naval Reserve. Of course, he must be of average intelligence, good character and be able to pass certain physical and mental examinations. Now, more than ever, before the Navy needs men of that type.

"All applicants, whether or not they have high school diplomas, are given an elementary examination containing about 100 questions, those receiving a grade of 50 per cent or more satisfy Navy educational standards."

"Naturally, a high school education is helpful in the Navy, just as it is in civilian life," points out A. J. Rathbone, principal of Washington Union High School.

"There are certain advantages for the high school graduate in the Navy," said Mr. Rathbone. "He has a wider background to call upon in earning advancement in position and pay. For example, men who are proficient in English may be sent to one of the Navy's communications or clerical schools. Recruits with a knowledge or aptitude for handling tools might be marked for trade or engineering courses. Men with college educations may qualify for midshipmens' training courses in the Naval Reserve and after their schooling period they will report for active duty as officers with the rating of ensigns.

"The Navy has four excellent trade schools to which new recruits in either the regular Navy or the Naval reserves may be sent after a training period, providing they pass entrance examinations with sufficiently high grades. At these schools they will be trained in any one of nearly fifty skilled trades or vocations to which their aptitudes suit them and will receive free schooling valued at hundreds of dollars in addition to their regular Navy pay. Such an education is valuable for advancement in the Navy and in later civilian life," he concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lindsay and family entertained at cards and refreshments at their home in Niles on Hallowe'en night for Mr. and Mrs. Bain Leask, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waynflete and the Kleinsasser brothers.

U. S. NAVY RECRUITING OFFICER PRESENTS APPLICANT WITH NEW "BADGE OF HONOR"

CHAMBER SEEKS FREE PHONE CALLS TO HAYWARD

The suggestion was made at the Monday luncheon meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce at the City of Florence Restaurant that an effort be made to have Hayward included in the free toll area now covered by telephone subscribers who pay an extra 75c per month for "extended service" which allows them calls to other communities in the Township without extra charge.

With the installation of dial phones in Niles soon to be undertaken an extra service charge of 25c will be added to all service bills, which should permit Hayward to be called without extra charge as Niles nearest operator will be situated in that city. Free service to Hayward subscribers now paying the extra extension service charge is now being had from Decoto and Alvarado, it was pointed out.

Secretary A. J. Petsche was instructed to take up the matter with Manager W. T. Sutherland at Hayward.

Fire Chief Roland Bendel of Decoto suggested that Niles should apply now for a special, distinctive number like one thousand or two thousand to be used exclusively for fire calls for the Niles department.

The secretary read a communication from E. T. Dusterberry, chairman of the Township Red Cross drawing attention to the fact that the annual roll call begins on Armistice Day, and suggesting that citizens purchase an annual membership at $1 for each member of their families.

It was reported that the state highway department has not yet started work on the flood drainage project in Niles.

PETITION IS OUT REQUESTING BUS FOR NILES SCHOOL

Norman Rose, local stockman, who drives his children several miles twice a day from his ranch in order to have them attend the Niles Elementary School is circulating a petition this week requesting the board of trustees to provide a school bus to perform this service for families living outside of walking distance of Niles.

Investigation has shown the parents of 45 children have to stop their work to bring their children to and from school daily, some of them coming as far as six miles each way.

The petition, which was presented to the Niles PTA Tuesday afternoon, is being readily signed by local property owners who have children attending the Niles School.

NEWARK PAVILION MANAGEMENT DONATES USE OF HALL; PROCEEDS TO BUY UNIFORMS FOR LOCAL TROOP

CENTERVILLE — The Provisional Rifle Company of the California State Guard now being formed in Washington Township, with the aid of Washington Township Post of the American Legion is giving a benefit public dance on Saturday night, December 6 in the Newark Pavilion.

This exciting announcement was made to the 30 men who drilled Monday night in the Washington High School gymnasium by Ray Peterson, past commander of the Legion post, serving as chairman of the benefit dance to be given early next month.

The use of the Newark Pavilion, Southern Alameda County's most popular dance pavilion, has been donated to the State Guard here through the courtesy of its board of directors, consisting of A. E. Francis, Joseph E. Pashote, Manuel DeSalles, and others.

Negotiations are under way for a well known orchestra to play for the evening, with their services also donated as a contribution towards national defense.

Tickets costing but 50c per person, with 5c federal tax added will be on sale next week and may be procured from any Guardsman, Legion member, or from the various Township civic and service organizations, who will receive blocks of tickets next week.

Arrangements are being made by Chairman Peterson and his assistants, Manuel Brazil and Walter Waynflete to obtain the use of the famous bar in the Pavilion, where dancers may satisfy their thirst with soft or hard drinks.

The newspapers of the Township are co-operating in publicizing this dance, all the proceeds of which are to be devoted to buying regulation uniforms, at a cost of about $11 per man for the nucleus of men now signed up with the company.

The tickets and window placards have been printed and donated by The Township Register at Niles.

As well as raising money this big military ball is being given to arouse public interest in Washington Township's "own" rifle company of uniformed and drilled state soldiers, as well as to get more recruits. As soon as 75 men and young men have signed up, 60 of whom can be on the floor at the armory in uniform, the company will be mustered in by an officer from Sacramento, given its insignia and designation.

Contrary to a mistaken belief existing in some quarters the new company can NOT be called out by the Governor to break strikes, but can be called to protect property which strikers or others are attempting to sabotage, should the sheriff's office ask for help in such an extreme situation.

Persons who may not care to dance are asked to buy a ticket for 55c in order to help provide a cash fund for future expenses of this new organization.

ANOTHER MAN HURT AT DANGER SPOT ON NILES HIGHWAY

The danger spot on Highway 17, opposite the Tidewater Associated's office near Niles claimed another victim during the heavy rain of Sunday night. Bill Fernandez, who runs a service station at Mission San Jose skidded and his car broke off a telegraph pole.

Fernandez suffered a broken shoulder, and after examination by Dr. George Holeman was taken to a hospital to have the injured member set. The Niles Chamber of Commerce wrote the state highway department last week regarding the traffic hazard at this point.

Fernandez' accident is the fifth to occur at this spot since spring and succeeding rains have made this section of the main highway hazardous in wet weather.

YOUNGSTERS PRESENT HALLOWE'EN PROGRAM OF THEIR OWN MAKING

The handsome auditorium of the Niles Elementary school became the center of civic interest on Hallowe'en night last Friday evening as adults and children thronged the room to capacity following the return of a "parade of horribles" which wound its way through the residence and business district of Niles.

Many of the oldsters stood up in the rear of the hall to enjoy the many acts of impromptu skill put on by the wierdly-costumed children. With a registration of more than 300 youngsters much talent was exhibited by accordion players, tap-dancers, tumblers and piano players.

This exciting activity kept Hallowe'en pranksters' mischief down to a lot of candle-greased windows and automobiles, with no acts of serious damage reported around Niles.

Mrs. Cassie Witherly, who has been away for several weeks in San Leandro, Oakland and San Francisco returned on Monday to her home here.

Ruth Justus, Bert Justus and Thomas Cunha all attended the skating in Irvington on Monday evening.

Mrs. Edwin M. Fisk is now at the U. C. hospital in San Francisco where her doctor hopes to find a cure for an apparent blood stream infection from which she is suffering.

Mrs. Hortense Cunha went to Newark on Monday to see her son "Cappy" Elmo who is confined to his bed there at the home of her sister Mrs. Mary Dutra. He is getting along as well as can be expected. He is suffering from inflamatory rheumatism.

MISSION SAN JOSE

Miss Ruth Justus
Correspondent

William Fernandez of the "Fig Tree Service" station here in Mission received quite a bad shake up on Sunday evening on the Niles-Mission highway when his car hit a pole to avoid a collision with another car. He sustained severe bruises and a dislocated collar bone, shoulder blade and arm.

Miss Marie Costa has gone to Oakland for a few days to visit and try and find work.

Miss Elizabeth Bettencourt of San Jose spent Thursday and Friday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Bettencourt here.

On Tuesday evening she treated the Meyer children Donnie, Richard and Evelyn to a dinner at the Round Table, followed by a trip to the theatre.

Friends of Mrs. Hattie Mann of Palo Alto, a former resident of the Mission at what is now the Frank Martinelli ranch, will be shocked to hear that her son Raymond of Oakland passed away very suddenly near Lake Merritt while driving his car one day last week. He leaves his mother, his widow, May, and a sister, Mrs. Erickson of Mountain View.

Joseph Dutra and his daughter, Grace Meyers celebrated twin dates for birthdays on Nov. 1. They were surprised with cake and coffee served by Mrs. Dutra. The family played cards during the evening.

QUIET HALLOWE'EN

NEWARK — For the first time in many years the town of Newark was quiet on Halloween night. It was reported that no real damage was done to property with the exception of soaping and waxing windows, removing gates, ringing door bells, etc. There were numerous children masquerading carrying lanterns, etc. which is the real spirit of Halloween. A number of parties were given in the various homes. Many Newark students of the high school attended the Hallowe'en dance held Friday at the high school gymnasium.

You will find the NILES THEATRE program in this issue!

MARINE FROM NILES WRITES ABOUT ICELAND

The following letter written by Knoful Jones, a former Niles boy, now a private first class with the United States Marines in ICELAND was written from there September 13 to his friends Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Duffie at Niles. Jones' two brothers, Russel and Leo both work at the Pacific States Steel mill and make their home with Mrs. G. D. Maphet of Niles. The letter follows:

From the land of the midnight sun comes a tale of woe, and woe is me for I'm so far from home it seems I'll never get back. more or less I've seen the sun go down at midnight and come back up at 2 o'clock. I've seen 9.000 miles of ocean and fifty million flying fish. I've seen bad girls and I've seen good girls, but here you dont see any girls.

I've seen it rain in California but California doesn't stand a chance with this hole up here, once it starts. It started about a week ago and it hasn't even looked like its going to quit. The ground is always wet. yet the natives say we are having a "drouth."

I live next door to the judge of the supreme court of Iceland: he looks like a farmer with about fourteen kids and they all live in a two room house. The main street in town looks like the back alleys in Niles and the best restaurant here is worse than the worst one there. What women there are here wont even look at you, let alone speak to you.

— No Trees Visible

There are no trees on the entire island, except one or two I've heard of in someone's yard but have never seen them. The whole Island is made up of nothing but mountains, all of them lava rock. In the valleys they grow grass which they cut for hay with a hand scythe and rake with a garden rake. The women get out and work with the men; fact is I think they are stronger and bigger than the men. Of course the women dress like civilized women with lipstick and powder, but the men look sort of "seedy". None of them are friendly, except a fellow that was drunk downtown the other day and he acted like a human being.

The beer you get here is about one percent alcohol, so you cant get drunk on it. They have some kind of stuff they call "black death", but you have to be in excellent physical condition to drink it or they order a coffin for you. We have orders not to drink it: I dont know which would be worse: drinking it or getting caught drinking it. We have our own beer in the canteen but dont get much of it.

Well, I think that's enough about Iceland except that we are here for an indefinite period which makes me feel very bad — of course not too bad — because its a good place to save money, although I haven't saved any as yet.

We started out on this trip on May 30 and got here on July 7. I mean to tell you it was a long boat ride but I didn't get seasick all the time I was on the boat. We came through the Panama Canal but didn't get to see it as they ran us all down below decks and made us go to bed. We went through during the night but did get to see part of Panama City from the boat. We stopped at Charlestown, S. C. seven days and made one liberty there. I spent all my money in that one liberty so could not make any more. We took off from there and came on up here.

— Secret Destination

We never did know where we were going until we got here, but a couple of days before we got here we had a pretty good idea that this was to be the place.

They have several English soldiers stationed here and when we came they moved out of the huts that they had built and we moved in. Now we are building huts for the army. They have several men from the Air Corps up here now; guess there'll be some more later.

As for air raids, we've had a couple of them, but guess they were afraid to drop bombs, and even if they did only one plane went over each time, so couldn't have done much damage — maybe. The worst part of it is getting up in the middle of the night, which seems to be the only time they come over. We had a raid one morning about 7 o'clock but I did not know it was a raid because we have a "dummy run" every once in while; but the next day I was copying the news from the radio and got a newsflash saying there had been an air raid up here, so you can see they aren't much to worry about — yet.

— Daily Newspaper

My job right now is copying the news each night and helping to put out a paper each morning. A couple of other fellows and I copy most of the news. I've been getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning to copy the news from the States, as that is the only time the States "come in" and even then, some times you cannot get them clearly. I like to get up early in the morning and copy the news when the reception is good, but when the news does not come in clearly it makes the fellows mad.

I got a promotion to Private First Class which makes me feel very good even though it isn't a high rank. I'm also getting ten bucks a month specialist's money, which comes from being a radio operator.

It's getting colder here, — will probably be snowing one of these days. They say the year around average here is about the same as New York.

These letters are censored and it makes it sort of hard to write and the news are few and far between, so will sign off.

KNOFUL JONES

THURSDAY FIRE CAUSES $1500 LOSS IN NEWARK HOME

NEWARK — The Newark Fire Department was called out to extinguish a fire at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Johnson on the corner of Thornton Avenue and Cherry Road last Thursday evening about 8 P.M. The fire was confined to three rooms of the five room house. Chief Joe Pashote estimated the loss at about $1500 for the furniture and $1000 for the building itself.

The cause of the fire was unknown as the Johnsons and their two year old child were not home when the fire broke out. A passing motorist noticed flames shooting through the roof and called the department. Johnson had no insurance on the furniture which was practically a total loss. A neighbor, Fred Muller, owner of the house, who tried desperately to save some of the furniture, had insurance on the building. Good response of the department and quick action saved the building from burning to the ground and saved other nearby homes. The Johnsons are now living on 1210 Thornton Avenue.

NEWARK SPORTSMEN TO BUY $300 OF U. S. DEFENSE BONDS

NEWARK — About 1000 people enjoyed the Newark Sportsmens Masquerade dance held Saturday evening at the Newark Pavilion. At ten-thirty o'clock costume prizes were awarded. At a recent meeting of the Sportsmen it was decided that the club would purchase $300 worth of National Defense Bonds. Plans were also made for turkey shoots to be held sometime this month at their Gun Field one mile southwest of Newark. Tentative dates for the turkey shoot have been set for November 16 and 2 with Joe Machado and Mel Bennett in charge for the day.

Edward Agna of Centerville received delivery of a 1942 Dodge sedan last week from the Newark garage.

Norman Rose of the Niles Rural district was given the Junior Chamber's endorsement of his petition to have the Niles School District purchase a bus which could pick up and deliver some 45 pupils now attending school here who live from one to five miles outside of town. Rose pointed out that Sunol, Mission San Jose and Irvington each had a bus for this purpose, serving relatively smaller districts.

Secretary Fred Duffie was instructed to write a letter to the state highway department asking that a dangerous spot on Highway 17 opposite the Tidewater Associated office be repaired to prevent future accidents, three of which having occurred recently.

CHURCH MEN'S CLUB ENJOYS CHARTER DINNER

Thirty-four men from this Township gathered in the Guild room at the Niles Congregational church on Thursday night of last week to enjoy a hearty "Jigg's dinner" followed by organization of a Church Men's club.

W. T. Lindsay acted as master-of-ceremonies and A. J. Rathbone served as chairman of the evening. Mr. Brown, the new agricultural teacher at Washington High school presented several fine solos accompanied by Dwight Thornburg at the piano, and the group joined in community singing. Remarks in support of a men's club were made by D. R. Rees and J. E. Thane.

At the conclusion of the charter-night dinner, prepared and served by Bain Leask, Fred Duffie and Jack Parry, assisted by Harold and Walter Kleinsasser and Andrew Lindsay, a fine talk on the historical background of China and Japan given by Al Morse of the high school faculty.

Notwithstanding many adversities suffered by the Chinese during the past 600 years, which he carefully traced out, time has served in China's favor rather than Japan's, the speaker said and today we still see Japan in its same awkward position of having to cast for excuses to give its people because of its repeated failure to make good on its promises to its people.

The chair appinted Clark Griffin chairman of the next dinner to be held Wednesday night, December 3 in the church, assisted by Jack Alberg, E. G. Glassbroog and Dan Marble. They are to plan the menu and provide the entertainment.

The horseshoe shaped tables were colorfully decorated in harvest colors including big pumpkins for centerpieces, set off by pommegranates and colored autumn leaves, with Hallowe'en marked tablecloths and napkins.

A nominating committee will report to the next meeting at which time permanent officers will be elected and installed, with by-laws presented to the membership for adoption.

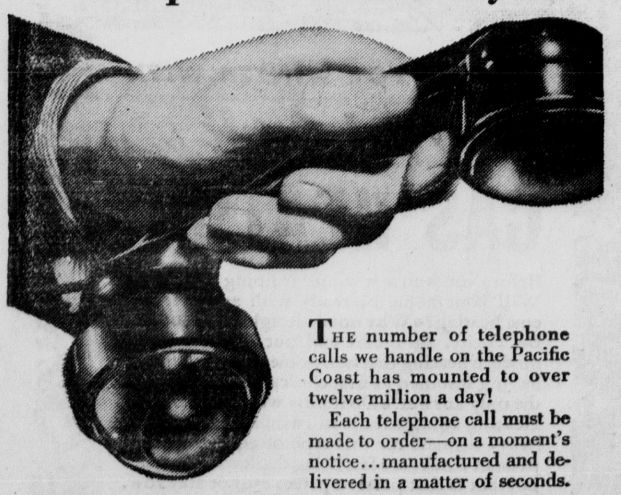
It was voted that the board meetings held hereafter would convene promptly at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8.

Church Treasurer W. T. Lindsay submitted his monthly financial report. The chairman was asked to proceed with the making and painting of a direction sign, guiding strangers to the Church, to be erected on First street opposite the beginning of H street. This is a project of the Martha Sanford Circle.

Discussion was held on assisting the Ladies Guild with their proposal to pave the patio, probably with brick and Trustee Warren Jones was asked to contact Mrs. E. C. Dawson, president of the Guild. New Trustee A. B. Leask was present as well as Walter Waynflete.

Now—more than 12 million telephone calls a day!



THE number of telephone calls we handle on the Pacific Coast has mounted to over twelve million a day!

Each telephone call must be made to order—on a moment's notice...manufactured and delivered in a matter of seconds.

That's a big job—but it's only part of the job we're doing today as the West hits its stride on National Defense work. Add to this a program of plant additions, this year, in excess of $75,000,000 of which expenditures for new construction alone will be over $62,000,000.

We are making an all-out drive of man power, materials and money to supply the kind of telephone service that will help the Pacific Coast speed its part of America's biggest job.

SPEAKER DECLARES AMERICAN BOMBERS COULD END WAR

DR. RAYMOND LAWRENCE CITES PROGRESS IN BUILDING PLANES & SHIPS

CENTERVILLE — A fleet of 2,500 American bombers, such as President Roosevelt has ordered built, if stationed now at bases in Northern Ireland and Scotland would have Europe at its mercy and could end the war now, was the declaration made Monday night by Dr. Raymond Lawrence at the public forum meeting held in the high school auditorium.

These planes, every three of which cost a million dollars to build, ordered some months ago, are now being produced but it will be July, 1943 before the full air fleet is ready, Dr. Lawrence said. This order totalling more than two BILLION dollars represents the largest single order ever placed for any one product in the history of American industry.

Germany cannot begin to build bombers of commensurate size, speed, cruising range and bomb-carrying capacity for a year to come, if she can do it then, he said. These four-motored fortresses are really battleships of the air.

Pursuing his subject of What is Right and What is Wrong with our Defense Program? the speaker pointed out that it should not be called a "defense" program, as the word defense cannotes passive waiting, which in an era of total war such as this is the same as national suicide. Our only defense now is an active OFFENSE.

— Change Mental Policy

Many persons still cling to a "Maginot Line psychology," that is, they believe in a method of defense the effectiveness of which no longer exists. He said our personal mental policy needs changing rather than our foreign policy, which is doing very well. To be neutral today is no longer possible, and to believe in neutrality under the existing situation is an anachronism.

To show that the United States has not yet begun to go "all out" in the prosecution of the war the speaker said our present national armament commitments represent but 13 per cent of our national income, as contrasted with the British Empire's 40 per cent of national income and the nazis' 60 cent. Nobody here is suffering yet, he said: in fact we are all more or less prospering because of the armament boom.

Indicating our production has been stepped up he said we are now producing one million horsepower of aviation engines per day, enough to power 4,000 new airplanes per month; but — one-third of the engines built have to be held in reserve for future spare parts as replacements destroyed in training and combat.

—Powder Production

As for smokeless powder one large factory is now producing six times as much PER DAY as was produced throughout the nation during the whole month of March.

We are still woefully short of anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns. The shipbuilding program is leading the field of production with an average of one new merchant ship per day being launched, and this figure will jump to two ships per day by next spring. However, the ratio of sinkings in the Atlantic must be held below the ratio of our new launchings if we are to maintain our bridge of ships to England.

Some 1041 new airplanes were completed in January of this year; this rose to 1914 in September, and should pass 2 000 for last month. Of this number no figures are released as to the numbers of the various types produced, whether they are to be used for training at home or for delivery to the battling nations. Yet we still have to have more airplanes.

The designs of our two best airplanes, the Boeing B-17 and the Consolidated B-24 have been "frozen" in order to make mass production possible. The President wants 500 of these a month. They alone can smash Germany. They each carry from two and a half to four tons of bombs, have a cruising range of 4,000 miles and a speed in excess of 300 miles per hour.

— Money Recently Voted

The nation is now short of weapons he said because congress did not make the money available until last summer. Meantime our navy is still our bulwark, and before Hitler can destroy the democracies he must first destroy England's and America's sea power. Our defense program is good, the speaker concluded, but not good enough.

RED CROSS WANTS 2,000 LOCAL MEMBERS!

To the Residents of Washington Township

There is no community chest in the unincorporated area of Washington Township, hence it is necessary for the American Red Cross to appeal for an increase in membership for 1941.

Last year, approximately one thousand enrolled in Washington Township. Our goal for 1941 is 2,000. Additional funds are required to take care of the responsibilities we have assumed at the request of our Federal Government.

The groups of loyal women, sewing in the various towns, have accomplished wonders. Over three thousand garments have been made and forwarded to the needy people of conquered countries. A campaign for sweaters for our men in camp is being inaugurated. Committees have been formed at the suggestion of the Federal Government for Disaster Relief and Defense. Plans have been made and work will soon be completed of depositing first aid kits in all fire houses and first aid stations in the Township.

We are the only agency the war department allows to maintain offices and representatives upon military reservations. In this capacity we act as liaison between our inducted men and their families and home communities. We also maintain contact between our citizens and relatives in the war zone.

These are a few of the services rendered by the Red Cross, all of which have increased our costs of operation. We, therefore, appeal to you to enroll in the Red Cross this year, in the town in which you reside. A committee is appointed for each town which will hve official receipts and buttons. The campaign will begin November 11, and continue for a short time thereafter. The cost of membership is $1.00. If it can be afforded, we suggest that all members of a family enroll.

Sincerely yours,
F. T. Dusterberry
Chairman for Washington Township

TOMATO GROWERS SEEK PAYMENT OF 1941 BONUS

CENTERVILLE — Something of a filibuster developed here during the regular meeting last week of the Eden-Washington Farm Center held at the high school cafeteria when J. J. Deuel, director of the California Farm Bureau federation declared the government will have to announce and guarantee what prices the farmer is to receive before he can support the "grow more food for defense" program.

He cited the fact that earlier this year the AAA had promised tomato growers a bonus of $2.75 per ton over their 1940 contract prices, to repay them for increased plantings. This bonus has not yet been paid.

(Editor's note: a release received Wednesday from the Surplus Marketing Administration in San Francisco says, quote: "Tomato growers throughout the United States have generally received substantial increases in prices in line with the program as outlined. Only in California, Utah and a few scattered, small areas, does the grower price situation appear to be unsatisfactory." Thus the government seems aware of unsatisfactory price conditions prevailing for tomatoes in this state. The release, however, does not say what the government is going to do about it.)

Speaking in defense of the government's "grow more produce" campaign Herbert Young, center member and County chairman of the U. S. D. A. Defense Commission said he is urging farmers to sign up in the Hayward office of the Farm Bureau showing how much more chickens, butter, eggs etc. they can produce.

Deuel agreed he would back the "grow more food" program if Secretary Wickard would guarantee in writing what he would do to protect the prices farmers are to receive for their additional production.

Preceding this absorbing discussion the present officers of the Center were re-elected as follows: James Nunes, president; Joseph Shinn, Jr., vice-president, and Neil McArthur, secretary. Music was provided by Mrs. Lyle Fisher, vocalist and Mrs. Loren Godwin, pianist. Dancing followed the dinner with music played by Fred Mitte's Haywire orchestra.

Mr. Stephenson, photographer, took pictures of the various classes of the Newark school last week.

In the light of world condition our complacency is collosal, cosmic and suicidal, Dr. Lawrence insisted. Quoting H. R. Knickerbocker, eastern columnist: 'better a Bolshevist who kills Germans than a citizen of a democracy who only kills time."

We use too many weasel words, such as: "paying Britain to fight for us is called 'lend-lease' ".

Before engaging in the question and answer period conducted by Forum Chairman Jack Rees the speaker posed one question for his hearers to ponder: "why cheer the American Navy when it goes into action and in the same breath refuse to send an A. E. F. if it should be needed?"

THREE DAY RAIN

A soaking rain, enough to start the grass hereabouts, fell in this district most of Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The seasonal rainfall total to Wednesday of last week was 1.06 inches, followed by .13. The three day storm deposited 1.10 inches in the Southern Pacific rain gauge at Niles, giving a seasonal total for this district of 2.29 inches to Tuesday morning, according to figures furnished through the courtesy of Agent Harvey Braun.

HABITS IN STARTING

A good habit for any motorist to develop is that of watching the instruments particularly in starting, reports the National Automobile Club. Three especially deserve watching: the oil guage, ammeter, and gasoline guage. The second not only shows that the generator is working but, if the car happens to have a belt drive, whether the water pump and fan are operating as they should.

For the West

FOR the convenience of its West Coast and Mountain States audience, the Telephone Hour, sponsored by the Bell Telephone System, is now being rebroadcast to this area. The program, which was formerly heard here in the late afternoon, will now be heard at 10:00 PM Mountain Time, 9:00 PM Pacific Time. On the air weekly for more than a year with James Melton, Francia White, and Donald Voorhees' 57-piece Bell Symphonic Orchestra and Chorus, the Telephone Hour program has become one of the most popular Monday features, bringing listeners familiar and well-loved music.

THE FUTURE PEACE: CHARITY OR VENGEANCE

Two schools of thought are developing regarding the type of peace to be imposed after this war ends..

The first school subscribes to the "let us be fair!" theory and would give the German people (as distinguished from the nazis) a right to a place in the sun, with the proviso that they behaved themselves. The treaty of Versailles did not grant the German nation a place in the sun, and provided that force should be used to prevent Germany from becoming aggressive again. This force was not used when Hitler made his first overt act by seizing Alsace Lorraine; it was not used when Mussolini invaded Ethiopia or the Japanese stirred up their own Shanghai "incidents." So the victims of the first peace plan over threw it.

The second school of thought proposes isolating and crucifying the German people as well as the nazis in reprisal for the unwarranted tortures they have inflicted on 15 innocent European nations. Not a bad idea, inasmuch as all present nazis were once Germans, and all nazis still claim to be Germans. It will be too bad for the real Germans who have never been nazis, but the future vengeance — like all laws — will fall alike on the just and the unjust.

Hence and ergo, the German nation as well as the nazis do not now dare stop fighting for fear of the vengeance the civilized nations will visit upon them. So they will continue to fight until they have nothing left to fight with.

The war has reached this point now. Hitler made his supreme effort on October 2, more than a month ago, against Moscow . . and Moscow still stands. Moscow apparently is to become in this war what Verdun stood for in the last war: a turning point in the Huns fortunes.

Hitler has drained his resources of men and materials; he has withdrawn four-fifths of his garrisons from the occupied (not "conquered") nations; he has called for, and been bolstered by, hundreds of thousands of troops from Rumania, Bulgaria and Italy.

All to no avail. The handwriting on the wall is already showing through the smoke of battle. He's done his damndest, but force cannot prevail against reason . . and it never will.

Hitler no doubt will gather the last of his resources and make a gigantic stab through the Caucasus at Iran, India and Suez this winter. It will be the last great battle ground of this war. The British, a million strong are waiting for him in that region, and with the untold manpower of India, Suez and the British possessions in North Africa, the conclusion will be obvious.

Meantime with the sinking of the first naval vessel, the U.S.S. Reuben James last week, the American navy will no doubt go into action with the British in the Atlantic. Together they will wear down the submarine menace, which in this war has never attained the success it had in the last war — until the menace is exterminated.

The nazis and their hordes are on the down-grade down, and every day of fighting and killing reduces their strength just that much more and brings The End just that much nearer.

Meantime the Russians are holding; the British are stronger in every way than they were a year ago, and the United States, Queen of Nations is fresh as a daisy, untried and unused, with its vast resources of manpower, materials and the WILL TO WIN.

The United States entry into the war will destroy the last of the German morale. Uncle Sam caught up even with Al Capone, and this war of attrition is grinding the nazis to powder, economically as well as in a military way. What today are the Germans using for materials? For food? For clothes? For consent from the invaded nations? There isn't any consent, and never will be.

Five mysteries of the war still retain their status quo of mystery, namely: why is Turkey, Germany's former ally, free while Bulgaria is not? Why was Norway invaded while Sweden was not? Why it that ripe little plum, Switzerland left so strictly alone? Why are Spain and Portugal left to their own devises? Any why has Ireland been allowed to get away with her impudence, not alone to the British, but to the nazis? These remain the five inexplicable mysteries . .

So, with an eye and much thought to the future peace, two schools of thought spring up, but only one will obtain: the German nation will have to be dismembered and held in some kind of permanent bonds to prevent its blood-sick peoples from upsetting the peace of civilzation for the third time in the same century.

Two Godless wars in one generation seemingly should be enough. If Christians have learned anything from these last two wars it is that they have to be stronger than the strongest, with the United States, — God's country — to lead them! — W.W.

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment?

It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 300 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 35 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

Some time in the next year, or the next few years the term "Armistice Day" is going to disappear from the list of American holidays. The Armistice started in 1918; war has broken out again, so the armistice is over.

France is suffering under an armistice, and that grand old warrior, Petain is being made the goat. France will rise to fight again.

An armistice means a cessation of hostilities while negotiations for peace through agreement are under way. That was tried at Versailles in the spring of 1919 — and failed dismally.

So the armistice is over, and the name should disappear from the consciousness and recognition of Americans.

Our next such public day of celebration will be called Victory Day, or Internatioal Peace Day, or some such designation, in recognition of that fact that all the bad blood in the Teutonazi-boche veins has been spilled and the other nations have returned to a world state of confraternity and amity between nations, where treaties are not mere "scraps of paper" and the pledged words of men are binding.

God willing! — W.W.

WORDS . . WORDS . . WORDS . .

Nearly every day there comes to the desk of this newspaper voluminous reports, usually expensively printed, from the taxpayers association, the tuberculosis association, government offices, chambers of commerce, members of congress . . for what reason?

No country weekly could possibly afford the time to set them in full type; no country editor has time to comb these lengthy reports and print a summary of their findings.

And does anyone read these lengthy, technical reports straight through? Seems like an awful waste of time by a lot of people who compile them, not to mention the cost of printing and circulating them.

Each group properly feels its work to be of primary importance to the public. But is it? The public is interested only in the results achieved, not in the devious and wordy methods through which the results are attained.

Seems like a lot of intelligent people could turn their time to better account than keeping their noses buried in columns of figures, in order to offer speculative findings and hypothetical conclusions.

The public is concerned only with the laws congress passes, not with the words said by this congressman or that. So many congressmen have been saying so many words every day that its a full time job for congressional clerks to keep up with them. And how many successful businessmen have any time to pore through these wordy documents? And if they did, what good does it do them? Any intelligent person who gives an hour a day to thoughtful reading of a competent daily newspaper keeps himself or herself well abreast of the times.

For the rest, there are not enough hours in the day to permit anyone to wade through pages of technical reports. No country editor can do it and simultaneously conduct his business properly. We only have a little over one-third of each 24 hours wherein to make our daily living, and that reuires a keen mind and relentless attention to our daily occupation.

Still these wordy reports come in; — they've been coming in for years . . it will be a happy day when they cease to come. Newspapers, whether large or small are only interested in brief summaries of RESULTS, not in the wordy preparations by means of which these results have been attained — "pro bono publico."

The office waste basket yawns — as usual . . and so . . do . . I. — W.W.

Almon E. Roth, president of the San Francisco Employers' Council, proposes that employer groups organize wherever possible to play the collectible bargaining "pressure game" on equal terms with labor unions.

"Co-operative employer action does not mean wrecking unions, it means recognizing them," Roth said in an address at the annual joint luncheon of the San Francisco Advertising Club and Purchasing Agents Association of Northern California.

"Whether we like it or not, we must recognize unions and their right to bargain collectively. That does not mean appeasement or the surrender of the fundamental rights of employers."

Roth suggested that a strong organization on both sides in labor dealing would lead to mutual respect.

ORDER IS THE FIRST RULE OF MIND

So many people are always going to do things which they never quite do. They give their word, and often as not don't keep it, — particularly in business.

Indicating many folks live in a sort of mental fog, a state of mental flow which they don't try to manage or master. Hitler has done his dirty work in Europe by interfering with the normal mental flow not alone of peoples but of whole nations. The results are not nice.

One apparent object of the American defense effort is to oblige people to THINK THINGS THROUGH, and come to conclusions. Another object is to keep them on their toes, mentally: "the feat (feet) of wit — attention on its toes," so to speak.

Try getting keyed up and keeping under pressure, and you will surprise yourselves how much work you can complete in a day. By completing today's work today you are ready for a whole new life — to be lived in one day! — tomorrow.

Keeping things moving is getting things done — and it's a thrill.

CONTENTMENT

Every time I return from the hurly-burly of a trip to a metropolitan center with its traffic lights, policemen, parking problem, presure and haste, I breathe a sigh of relief and thanksgiving for the peace and quiet of the Niles Community.

Here we can park where we please as long as we please; everybody knows everybody; we do not live under pressure, and take time out from our regular duties to have fun as we go along.

Seems to me that's the way The Almgihty planned for us human troglodytes to live.

AN UNNECESSARY GOVERNMENT EXPENSE

Propaganda mills of the government and its agencies are turning out their grist in staggering quantities. Today's mail brought to our desk 17 letters. All seventeen went into the waste basket. In this regard, certain thoughts might be expressed out loud.

Most of the material released has no sound news value. If it has, the news is so handled even an expert can't detect it.

Most of the stories are so lengthy a busy editor has no time to read them, much less, a busy public.

All of them are sent out under government frank, serve no useful purpose, clog Uncle Sam's mails, post offices, and annoy janitors in newspaper offices.

Two pieces came to us in envelopes retailing at 10 cents each. One came on watermarked bond.

With the threatening shortage of paper, we suggest elimination of all these propaganda mills, eliminate those so employed, save huge mailing, cut distribution costs. This would be a fine contribution to national defense. Then, when something worth while did come from some governmental agencies, it might get more attention in a newspaper office. — Hayward Journal.

Register Editor's note: Hundreds of California publishers have been harping on this same theme for years. Our government now wants us, the public who pays the taxes, to tighten our belts and do without.

Why does not our government itself begin to practice economy? — W.W.

NILES P. T. A. HEARS ADDRESS ON COOPERATION

Reverend J. L. Webster of Newark spoke on Civic Responsibility during the regular meeting of the Niles PTA held Tuesday afternoon at the grammar school with Mrs. Fred Duffie presiding. He said that by practicing "love, faith and charity," beginning in the home and then spreading to the community, state and nation we learn to live happily in a community of people instead of as Robinson Crusoe individualists.

Citizens have to learn to live together, show kindness to one another, then cooperate to the fullest. Our government was founded to help others and laws are made to help, rather than hinder the lives of peoples living at peace together. Religion is the basis of Christian living for families as well as nations. By living in groups, we all have to shoulder civic responsibilities for the general welfare, which is the object of parent-teacher associations.

Reports of council and district meetings were given by Mrs. H. Hale and Mrs. Harvey Braun. The council per capita tax was increased from 25c to 35c.

The Hallowe'en committee reported on the successful parade, amateur hour and treat recently enjoyed by the Niles pupils through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club and the PTA.

All members present filled out questionnaires under the emergency defense program listing their capabilities in case they are needed. The nutrition classes will continue each Thursday afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Catherine Parry gave a report on the cafeteria and Mrs. E. D. Bristow explained that a new law made it mandatory that cafeteria revenues be turned over to the school district fund which would pay cafeteria bills for food, etc.

Attention was drawn to the food sale to be held Saturday morning at Murphy's store and Dad's Night was set for Tuesday December 9. Refreshments were served by the seventh grade mothers.
